

SLA107 Practice Sentences

1. He turned off the light and went downstairs.
2. Upstairs someone (think!) is sleeping.
3. We're finally alone.
4. Not at all!
5. Which sweater do you like more – this one or that one?
6. He's likes everything that is new.
7. The next day, he proposed to her.
8. She won't let me study.
9. Let the baby sleep!
10. What will happen/be next?
11. In all the time I've been at Princeton, I've never been on the third floor in the library.
12. It's already after 12:00. It's time for us to go.
13. No one ever helps anyone anywhere.
14. Did anyone call? Why didn't anyone call?
15. No matter what you bought, I'll like it.
16. No matter how much I study, I will never understand aspect.
17. There was no one to dance with.
18. There is nothing for us to do.

19. There will be someone to turn to for help.
20. The other day I saw what's his face with what's her face.
21. Instead of complaining about everything all the time, you should study.
22. In order to get tickets to that concert, you need connections.
23. That jerk owes me $40.
24. I'm not sure if he graduated from Princeton (it may have been Devry).
25. He didn't say if he was going to the exhibit.
26. Last night I dreamt that my professor came to class naked.
27. I'm tired (because I didn't sleep enough).
28. I'm tired (at the end of the day).
29. He always starts the class with a poem.
30. How did it all end? It ended with the death of the main hero.
31. Who was that? That was Vera.
32. He asked for some water.
33. Can I ask you a rather personal question?
34. He asked me how to get to Red Square.
35. You remind me of a woman I took guitar lessons from.
36. Remind Lena that tomorrow is Borya's birthday.
37. He walked past (me), without saying a word.

38. Princeton is tons better than Harvard. Yeah, sure!

39. He risked his life for us.

40. I would risk waking him up.

41. If you don't object, I'll finish (eating) the cake.

42. It would be better for you to leave.

43. Does he believe in God?

44. I don't believe you!

45. Is he still here? Hasn't he left yet?

46. Anything else?

47. Do it one to me one more time!

48. I'm terrified!

49. I bought 2 red ties and 5 wool scarves.

50. Last night from 7-1 I was at the library.

51. I envy his 3 ex-wives.

52. We received letters from 120 people.

53. Could you tell me what time it is? It's 6:25.

54. He gets to work every day at 7PM and leaves at 4AM.

55. He was born June 5, 1879 and died August 3, 1962.

56. They have three children – two boys and a girl.

57. To each his own.
58. I have been living in London for a long time.
59. They haven't seen each other in a long time.
60. I quit smoking a long time ago.
61. Lyuba was a bit rude.
62. He has short curly brown hair and green eyes.
63. She took the exam but did not pass.
64. She was married to a famous Hungarian fireman.
65. Why is he marrying her?
66. In the late '60's I became interested in Russian literature.
67. I couldn't care less about your and your idiotic problems.
68. She got pregnant but decided to have an abortion.
69. Katya had a girl, whom she named in honor of Lenin.
70. He accused me of calling and threatening them.
71. When I saw him for the last time, strange as it may seem, he was sober.
72. She looked for him for about a week.
73. He came without an invitation.
74. Does he work or is he still in school?
75. Our older son goes to Brown.

76. I will be graduated from Princeton in (year).
77. I want to enroll in Law School.
78. I'm a biology major.
79. He studied all night.
80. I studied 4 days for my Russian exam.
81. He failed his econ exam.
82. I convinced her to sign up for Japanese.
83. That jerk gave me a C-.
84. I got an A+ on my Russian (final) exam.
85. I ain't got no money.
86. I'm working on a sociology paper.
87. She's a freshman and her boyfriend is a senior.
88. I have been studying Russian for two years.
89. My history professor is a fantastic teacher.
90. I don't envy the chair of the math department.
91. Boris Vladimirovich, you are correct. Vera Borisovna, you are very lazy.
92. You wouldn't happen to know whether there's a bakery nearby.
93. Who taught you to swim?
94. I learned to play the guitar when I was 5 years old.

95. He speaks Russian with a thick Italian accent.
96. When I was little I took dance lessons from a Frenchwoman.
97. Unlike Nina, I never miss class.
98. How did the class go?
99. My favorite subject in school was music.
100. I searched for you for years.
101. I want to read (≠прочитать) Tolstoy in the original.
102. Who played the role of the lion in the play?
103. He said that they played chess all night, but I don't believe him.
104. Putin lived in Germany not quite five years.
105. You look great! You lost weight. I lost 10 kilograms.
106. In the two years I lived in Paris, I gained 20 kilograms.
107. Did Grisha quit or was he fired?
108. Could you introduce me to Mr. Nelson?
109. Mrs. Wright really liked the movie.
110. When did you become interested in foreign affairs?
111. No one understands the president's domestic policy.
112. It never occurred to me to call him.
113. For a long time he couldn't make up his mind to buy a car.

114. My grandmother goes to church every week.

115. He gave a correct answer.

116. Everything depends on the development of small business.

117. Trenton is the capital (столица) of New Jersey.

118. Stop!

119. He unexpectedly stopped the car.

120. When did you stop going to the gym?

121. How can one not adore his lion?

122. You're wasting your time calling him.

123. Do you have a table for two?

124. Three men arrived by car.

125. They have four children.

126. He knows Pushkin like the back of his hand.

127. I was standing fact to face with Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin.

128. I read an interesting article about Anna Akhmatova.

129. Johnny Depp is overrated.

130. I envy Julia Roberts.

131. He goes crazy over the Simpsons.

132. Why (≠почемý) did he turn off the light?

133.It's time to start the class.

134.I have a headache.

135.Dima has fallen ill.

136.I'm nauseated.

137.Lena has the chills.

138.Call me as soon as you get there.

139.He called me a fool.

140.What is that new restaurant on the corner called?

141.It doesn't matter. I'll cope somehow.

142.His apartment is small, but it's still an apartment.

143.He'll always help us.

144.My roommate gets all A's, but he's still a fool.

145.If you going to sob, then sob!

146.They decided to cut off his hand.

147.I wiped off the child's mouth.

148.Masha will be there as well (as other people).

149.He speaks Chinese as well (as several other languages).

150.Please speak a little more slowly.

151.If anything happens, call me.

152. There were 100 soldiers at the performance.

153. Gosha is my homey.

154. He is so lazy!

155. She is such a genius.

156. I am so hungry!

157. That is so nice of you.

158. He just won't leave!

159. Listen up!

160. Hey, guys, let's go to the movies.

161. I work like a dog, while you don't do a darn thing.

162. One, two three.

163. He lives a twenty-minute drive from the church.

164. Where are you headed?

165. I went to the ballet last night.

166. I took Vera to a French restaurant yesterday.

167. Here, kitty!

168. When I was little, we went to Omsk every year.

169. I will be commuting to "Petetown" this year.

170. As I was heading to the library, it started raining.

171. That jacket suits you.

172. How time flies!

173. Aristocrats always behave.

174. Where are you taking that (very large and heavy) desk?

175. I don't like to wear glasses.

176. There are rumors going around that he slit his wrists.

177. We got lucky with the weather.

178. What is playing in the theater on the corner?

179. Tomorrow I have day off!

180. What did you do this weekend?

181. Come in! Take off your coat!

182. He always listens to Natasha.

183. I didn't recognize you without your glasses.

184. I'll tell you as soon as I find out.

185. He married a 22-year-old woman who graduated from Princeton in the year 2000.

186. I like to ski.

187. Let's go for a ride in my boat.

188. They like to talk about the old days.

189. Until then, I had never eaten in a Chinese restaurant.

190. Since then, I haven't seen him.

191. Since they got divorced, they sit at home every evening.

192. He still wears the cross his mother gave him.

193. On the radio they are warning about a strong storm.

194. She dances (≠танцевá+) superbly!

195. He punched the driver in the nose.

196. We drove all over the place.

197. We ran out of gas.

198. Get acquainted!

199. That's a cool thing!

200. I have been to Moscow several times, but I've never been to Kiev.

201. Why did you sign up for Russian? No reason. (Just for the heck of it.)

202. Could you tell me how to get to Red Square?

203. Go two blocks, turn left, cross the street, go to the corner, and turn right.

204. Get on bus number 75, go to the metro, take the metro to Lyubyanka, when you come out of the metro turn left.